Info

“On stage or in front of the camera, this man goes off like a rocket!” Sebastian Merget uses his verbal wit, combining it with his own particular charm and making even the seemingly least spectacular topics spark. As a natural entertainer, he presents events including “Weihnachtsleserei” and “Brüllerei” (both since 2015) at Tim Mälzer’s restaurant Bullerei. He also runs the “(partially) culinary” podcast FIETE GASTRO with Tim Mälzer. The podcast was awarded the “Golden Blogger 2019” award in the category “best celebrity social media account” and reaches just under 100,000 listeners every fortnight.

He can be seen on camera as an event moderator on behalf of clients including Canon at the FESPA trade fair in Hamburg and Porsche in Zuffenhausen, as well as presenting the REWE supermarket’s YouTube channel. Off from his home in Hamburg, he spent summer 2017 travelling all over Germany as a social media reporter for the “REWE Family” events, inviting 15 entrepreneurs from the VOX TV format “Die Höhle der Löwen” (equivalent to the British “Dragons’ Den”) to the REWE kitchen. Since April 2019 he has presented in a similar way for Accor Hotels.

In his previous career, Sebastian was no less a high-flier: he was awarded several Cannes Lions, but now prefers to do his own presenting – most recently the Art Directors Club für Deutschland e.V. (ADC) 2018 in Hamburg and Die Klappe in Berlin in 2019 and 2020.

Sebastian's eloquence, curiosity and, above all, his sheer enjoyment whenever he presents never fail to impress clients. And indeed himself, immodest as he is.
